Chorus Niagara Welcomes New Managing Director

St.Catharines, ON

Chorus Niagara is pleased to announce that Elise Naccarato has been appointed to the role of Managing Director effective May 24, 2022.

Elise begins her new role as Chorus Niagara's current Managing Director, Diana McAdorey, wraps up a wonderfully successful 13 seasons with the Chorus, guiding the organization through growth, challenges and successes, and helping to make Chorus Niagara one of the region's leading arts organizations.

As Managing Director, Elise will work closely with the Board, Artistic Director, Robert Cooper, and our members and Patrons to help lead Chorus Niagara (CN) into our post COVID-19 future and as we continue our mission, "to be a cornerstone of the Arts Community through creative and passionate programs that entertain and enthrall." As Elise assumes her new role, Chorus Niagara enters the 2022-23 season with energy and a renewed sense of optimism as we anticipate performing in full post-Covid force.

Elise's association with CN has included being a member of Chorus Niagara, Administrative Director for the Chorus Niagara Children's Choir (CNCC), and more recently as Associate Conductor of Chorus Niagara. Elise was awarded the 2021 City of St. Catharines' Arts Award in the Emerging Artist category.

About Chorus Niagara

Niagara's premier auditioned 100-voice symphonic ensemble established in 1963.

Chorus Niagara is led by Artistic Director Robert Cooper, C.M., one of Canada's most influential and experienced choral conductors. Our singers come from all walks of life and represent all ages from 18-80!

Chorus Niagara is a family of choirs that includes Chorus Niagara, four Chorus Niagara Children's Choirs, the Side-By-Side High School Chorale, the Robert Cooper Choral Scholars Program, and an Associate Conductor. Audition now for the 2022-2023 season.
